NURSE SKEELS
RESUMES STORY

Woman Accused of Murder
Recites Circumstances of Death of Miss Gay

Sought to Be Relieved of Duties in Gay Home—
Stayed by Request

LAWRENCE, June 25.—Mrs. Bessie M. (Skeels) Lundgren, a nurse who is on trial for murder because of the death by poisoning of Miss Florence W. Gay, today resumed her story from the witness stand. Emaciated by recent illness, the witness was carried to her place by court attendants. She appeared pale, but her physician said the only effect of the mental strain of yesterday's examination was a slightly increased nervous condition.

Nurse Skeels continued the recital of the circumstances connected with the illness and death of Miss Gay in December, 1917. She testified that instead of attempting to stay with the sick woman whom, it is charged, she was dosing with arsenic, she had sought relief from her duties in the Gay home several days before Miss Gay died. She told Mrs. Edith M. Luce, a relative of the Gays, she said, that she was so tired she could not stand the strain much longer, and it was at Mrs. Luce's request that she stayed on.

Mrs. Skeels asserted that she gave Miss Gay no medical attendance of any kind for two days before her death. On the day that Miss Gay died, she said, she was called into her room by Mrs. Luce and found the patient unconscious.

She said she raised Miss Gay's head and did all she could to make her comfortable because she loved her.

After Miss Gay had died, witness said, she found a box of jewelry and immediately notified Mrs. Luce.

PLOT TO KILL FORMER GERMAN PREMIER

LONDON, June 25.—A number of soldiers have been arrested in Weimar, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen, on charges of having planned to arrest and murder Philipp Scheideemann, the former premier. The plot was to have been carried out Monday evening.

BARROOM FRACAS AIRED IN POLICE COURT

An argument in a barroom on Broadway yesterday afternoon between Patrick J. McCormack and Isaac LaFrier had its sequel in police court today when Isaac appeared as complainant against Pat, who, he said, had bounced a stiff right hook off his jaw and sent him down for the count. McCormack was found guilty of assault and battery and also guilty of drunkenness and was ordered to pay a fine of $20 for assault. The other case was placed on file.

Made Civil Settlement

A civil settlement was made in the case of Henry Jabutis of Dracut, who was present on a larceny charge, and the case filed. According to the police Henry played a little April Fool prank on his neighbor, Agnes Dagres by going over to his farm early in the morning of April 1 and taking a carriage and several farming implements. He didn't return the articles, the police say, and when Officer Cullinan located them in his barn a few days ago he was arrested for larceny.

Domestic Difficulties

John Bell was found guilty of assault and battery on his wife Mary, and after both had poured out a long story of domestic unpleasantness to the court, he expressed a desire to live apart for the future John was ordered to find a new home and contribute $10 weekly for the support of his better half through the probation officer.

GRADUATES 21ST CLASS

Commencement Exercises at State Normal School
Brought to a Close Today

The annual graduation exercises of the State Normal School were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and were attended by the same happy incidents which ever mark this important stepping stone in the careers of the future educators of the country. The school assembly hall was filled with interested relatives and friends, and the program, refreshingly brief, was universally enjoyed. It was the twenty-first class to be graduated from the school.

The chorus and semi-chorus singing, under the leadership of Albert Edmund Brown, was particularly inspiring and sounded a clear call to the standard of Americanization and love of country. The class gift was a pledge of money to the school alumni, assisting in the effort to reorganize the alumni body. The address to the graduates was given by J. E. Burke, Litt.D., assistant superintendent of Boston schools. The class motto is "Non est vivere sed valere vita." (Not merely to live but to be worthy of life.)

DE VALERA AT CAPITAL

Provincial President of the Irish Republic Visits Senator
Walsh

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Senator Walsh received a visit from Edward De Valera, the provisional president of the Irish republic, when he was in Washington a few days ago, but the fact did not become known until Valera had left the city. Senator Walsh then said, "De Valera did not discuss his plans or views with me. We had merely a formal chat. He expressed his delight at being in America and with the liberal sentiment and sympathy of the American people for the Irish cause. He also stated that he looked forward with the greatest confidence for the recognition of the Irish republic." It was Senator Walsh who introduced and had pressed through to a successful vote in the senate a resolution expressing the sympathy of the senate with the aspirations of the Irish people. Senator Walsh today stated that De Valera desired his visit here to be kept a complete secret and requested no information regarding it be given out by the senators and members of congress whom he had visited, until after he had left town.

"And I was much impressed," added Senator Walsh in talking to The Sun correspondent, "with De Valera's youth and sincerity of purpose. I am sure he will get a warm greeting and greatly interest the people to whom he talks. He was accompanied by his secretaries and left here intending to travel extensively and present his views to members of boards of trade and chambers of commerce."

Trolley Strike Which Para-

Joint Conference Discusses Plans for Conference With Railroad Management

BOSTON, June 25.—Normal service on all lines of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway, affected by the general strike of union carmen was resumed today. The strike, which paralyzed the service in more than a score of cities and towns from three to eight days, was officially declared off last night after union officials had polled yesterday's vote and found an overwhelming majority in favor of returning to work.

Plans for a conference with the railway management were discussed at a meeting of the joint conference of the carmen's local unions today. The committee also arranged to place before a board of arbitration the various grievances claimed by the employees, including the matter of doing away with the use of hand fare registers on open cars.

It was against the use of these registers that the carmen of Lowell, who were the first to walk out, protested. They struck on Monday of last week and when sympathetic strikes were called on Sunday in the Chelsea, Lynn, Salem, Lawrence, Haverhill, Reading, Woburn and Quincy districts additional grievances were made public. More than 3000 carmen, about 500 miles of track, and nearly a half million car riders were involved in the strike. The vote to return to work was precipitated by the declaration of President W. D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees, that unless the men returned to their cars today, they would lose their local charters and all the benefits derived from national affiliation.

Back in Lawrence
LAWRENCE, June 25.—Normal street car traffic conditions were resumed here today, all the Eastern Massachusetts Railway company employees who struck in sympathy with the Lowell carmen returning to work today.

FAIRBURN'S MARKET
ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing for the employees of Fairburn's market was held today at Revere beach. The excursionists left the store in the square shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, the trip to the seashore being made in an automobile truck. Bathing, sporting events and games were enjoyed at the beach during the forenoon, while at noon a very appetizing fish dinner was served. The afternoon was devoted to sightseeing.

BOSTON, June 25.—Every patrolman in the police department of this city was on duty or on call today, the result of a special mobilization. No official explanation of the unusual gathering was given but it was said at headquarters that reports were current of a possible radical demonstration and parade, permits for which had been refused.

An object resembling a bomb was found in a Congress street office building this morning and turned over to Walter L. Wedger, explosives expert of the state police, for analysis.

COMMODORE ED PEIRCE
DIES IN WASHINGTON

Edward Burgess Peirce, for years a leading figure in the social and political life of Lowell which was his home since boyhood, died early this morning at the Washington sanitarium, Washington, D. C. His age was 72 years. Death came as the end of a prolonged period of failing health, although the keen mental faculties for which he was ever noted were at his command until the very last.

Perhaps no man was better known or more prominently in the public eye than was Mr. Peirce for many years. He was familiarly known as Commodore Peirce, a name coined during the time he operated a boat between the Vesper Boat Club and Tyngs Island in the Merrimack river, the island then being his personal property. He was unequivocally a democrat in politics and although his active political life was bound within the city limits, he was intimately known throughout the state for his intensive interest in that party.

Mr. Peirce was born in Lowell, in Pleasant street, on May 27, 1847, the son of John N. and Mary M. Peirce. He was educated in the public schools of the city and it was while attending high school that he ran away and enlisted to serve in the war of the rebellion. He joined Battery F, Second Regiment, Massachusetts Heavy Artillery, as a private on Oct. 3, 1863, and served for two years, or until Sept. 3, 1865. On May 25, 1865, he became a member of Post 42, G.A.R.

For several years he was interested in railroading and worked as a claim agent on one or two roads which have now become merged into the Boston & Maine. He was better known, however, during his operation of a boat between the Vesper wharf just above the Pawtucket dam and Tyngs Island. He was actively engaged in this work for many years. His first appearance in Lowell politics came in 1879, when he was elected to the common council and also served as its president. He was re-elected the following year and also was a member of the board in 1882 and 1884, again serving as president in 1882. For three years, 1887, 1888 and 1889, he was a member of the board of aldermen.

For the past several years he was not engaged in business which brought him into general prominence, but during that time worked on the distribution of patented railroad devices. After the death of Mrs. Peirce in June, 1917, he went to Maine for rest until September of that year when he returned to Lowell to settle the estate. In October he went to Washington and remained at the sanitarium there until his death. He was not obliged to take to his bed because of his failing health until last Sunday, although he spent much time during the past several months in a wheel chair.

But few men have been blessed with his ability of conversation and instantaneous repartee. Many answers were favored with a dash of wit and at first glance he might be judged to possess a stern and forbidding disposition, but this was far from being so and his loyalty to beliefs always brought him honor even from those who differed with him most. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. How, and P. Wright of Winchester.

Today marked the climax of the graduation season in Lowell with six grammar schools, the high school and the State Normal schools holding their exercises. The high school exercises will be at 7:45 o'clock this evening at the B. F. Keith theatre and the Normal school program was carried out at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Washington, Morey and Edison grammar schools held their exercises this morning while the Lincoln, Moody and Riverside graduates received their diplomas this afternoon. The Varnum and Greengrass schools hold their exercises this evening.

U. S. NOW HAS REAL FORTIFIED FRONTIER

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Completion of forts and housing accommodations along the Mexican border, undertaken by the war department to ameliorate the trials of the troops serving as patrols, will give the United States its first real fortified frontier.

Regularly established army posts along the international boundary now total more than two score with probably as many more outpost positions, each accommodating a troop of cavalry or an infantry platoon. The three-year watch of the American troops, led the war department finally to decide that permanent housing should be furnished.

FIGURES ON MOREY
SCHOOL ADDITION

Unless the city of Lowell wants to borrow beyond the debt limit for the construction of an addition to the Morey grammar school it will not be able to put up the new building this year for the simple reason that the city's finances will not allow it.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has prepared a record showing how far Lowell will be from the debt limit each month for the rest of the year and at no time do the figures give any indication that the city will be able to expend some $200,000 on any one proposition, as has been estimated by local contractors.

The mayor believes that the annex can be constructed for much less than that sum and he cites Framingham where a 16-room building has been put up recently for $175,000. Other cities can show similar accomplishments, he says, and he believes that with the abolition of unnecessary elaboration, Lowell's annex can be constructed for a reasonable amount of money.

URGES VACCINATION

With the close of the school season the local board of health wishes to urge upon parents of children who expect to attend school next September the importance of having them vaccinated. ## LOCAL TROLLEY SERVICE

Car Service Normal—Rooke
Register Used on Open
Cars Pending Settlement

The street car service of Lowell was resumed today after nine days of idleness, during which time the conductors and motormen took sides against the street railway company on the question of the use of the Rooke register as a means of fare collection on open cars. The local men voted to return to work yesterday and operate cars designated by the company and to collect fares with the Rooke on open cars pending an immediate settlement of their differences by the international union.

Open cars were operated today on the Moody street-Hovey square, Broadway-High street, Pawtucketville-Christian Hill, Varnum avenue-Oaklands and the Lawrence street lines and the conductors in charge of the cars used the Rooke register. Extra mill cars also were of the open type. Instructions were issued to the conductors to make every effort in not allowing the cars to become over-crowded, thus facilitating the work of fare collection. As far as could be learned this forenoon traffic was normal.

With the resumption of street car traffic, the overworked jitneys, which did such valiant service for the duration of the strike, disappeared from view. The police did not molest the automobile drivers during the period of emergency transportation as the public demanded the service, but with the return of the electric, jitney operators must furnish the usual $5000 bond if they wish to carry on a business.

CONVOY OF POLICE FOR VEGETABLE TRUCKS

NEW YORK, June 25.—With a police guard thrown around Washington Market and a convoy of mounted patrolmen for every truck load of vegetables leaving the warehouses, the first appreciable movement of produce since the strike of market teamsters, chauffeurs and porters on Monday, was begun here today.

The police precautions were taken to avoid threatened violence. Notwithstanding these assurances of protection many commission merchants did not open their places of business this morning. Army trucks supplying government institutions were guarded by soldiers and marines and were allowed to pass picket lines unmolested. Strike representatives announced the board of health would be requested to remove from the markets decaying commodities which have been a menace to health.

DRUGGISTS ARRANGE
ANNUAL OUTING

The Lowell druggists held their monthly meeting this morning and the outing committee consisting of William Noonan, Charles Gallagher and John Osgood, reported that Thursday, July 10, was the date decided upon for the outing which will be held at the Geneva club grounds in Tyngsboro. Local drug stores will close at 11 a. m. on the date in question, and special cars will leave Merrimack square for the grounds at 11:45. Buffet lunch will be served upon arrival at the grounds. The afternoon will be given over to sports and dinner will be served at 6 o'clock. President William Kiernan and Secretary Fred Burr are also members of the outing committee. The committee on sports includes Allen T. Miller, William Green and George Dow.

LIQUOR LICENSE QUESTION

In an effort to get a clear interpretation of just what the local license commission expects of liquor dealers in this city after July 1, Mayor Perry D. Thompson is making arrangements to have a conference with the members of the commission in a day or two so that the confusion in the minds of many people in regard to prohibition may be cleared away.

Ultimatum Being Prepared as

France Prepared for Eventualities if Germany Fails to Carry Out Provisions

(By the Associated Press.)

Germany has proved slow in making known to the peace conference in Paris what her plans are regarding her representation at the formal signing of the peace treaty and all arrangements for the ceremony are being held up.

Allies to Send Ultimatum

If the heads of the allied powers do not hear from Weimar very soon regarding the German delegation for the signing of the peace treaty, an ultimatum will be sent to the German government, according to the Paris office of Reuters' limited. This ultimatum will demand the appointment of plenipotentiaries within a certain number of hours.

Still Hope to Sign Friday

It is still hoped in Paris that the treaty will be signed on Friday, but the event may go over until the following day. Everything depends now upon the time of arrival of the German delegates.

It is expected that the new Italian delegation headed by Tommaso Tittoni, the new foreign minister, will arrive in Paris on Friday to resume the activities of Italy relative to the treaty with Austria. There are several important matters still to be adjusted before the remainder of the Austrian treaty can be presented to the Austrian delegates.

Prepared for Eventualities

France, and presumably the other allied and associated nations, are prepared for eventualities should the Germans fail to carry out the provisions of the treaty.

Premier Clemenceau in replying to questions of members of the chamber of deputies relative to demobilization, said yesterday that precautions were necessary "in view of the state of mind of the Germans" the premier pointing out that the destruction of German ships in Scapa Flow and at Kiel showed the "spirit in which the Germans will sign the treaty."

Feeling in Germany High

Despatches from Berlin indicate that feeling over the peace situation is still running high in German military circles, officers speaking of "denying the honor of the German army and its leaders" by adopting "special measures."

$500,000,000 for Belgium

Formal approval has been given by the supreme council of the conference to the plan of giving Belgium priority in reparations to the extent of about $500,000,000.

ANNUAL LAWN PARTY

Anything is in readiness for the annual lawn party of St. Margaret's parish which will be held at the Casino in Thorndike street tomorrow afternoon and evening. During the afternoon a special entertainment for the children will be given and will include sports and dances. In the evening Broderick's orchestra will furnish music for dancing. ## BOND ISSUE FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

DeValera Outlines Plans to Float Loan of $5,000,000 Here and Abroad

Says Representatives Will Be Sent to Paris—Ambassadors to Other Countries

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Irish republic proposes to issue bonds to the amount of $5,000,000 (about $5,000,000), President Eamon de Valera announced here last night.

Half the issue will be offered for immediate subscriptions, $250,000 in Ireland and $250,000 abroad, in denominated "to meet the needs of small investors."

"In order to obtain for our own de jure government, and for the Irish republic which the Irish people will set up, the necessary international recognition," Mr. De Valera said, "we shall send at once our accredited representatives to Paris to the peace conference and to the League of Nations."

"We shall give them all necessary authority and that they may proceed there in a manner befitting their character as the representatives of a nation we shall apply for the necessary safe conduct to enable them to pass through the naval and military cordons with which the power in occupation of our country has surrounded us."

To Send Out Ambassadors

countries a number of duly accredited ambassadors and consult to see that the position of Ireland is understood as it truly is and not as English propaganda would represent it and in general to see that the interests of Ireland in these countries are in no way neglected. We shall thus resume that intercourse with other peoples, which befits us as a separate nation, that intercourse which it has been the chief aim of English statecraft to cut off and which indeed English power has succeeded in cutting off for over a century.

"At the present time of general world reconstruction it is most important that the material interests of the country at home be also looked after, and by Irishmen. It will be the duty of our ministry to secure the co-operation and to co-ordinate the activities of the various bodies which have taken voluntarily to themselves the safeguarding and advancement of these interests. Toward English legislation interfering with these interests we shall act in accordance with the general principles I have already indicated, that is, we shall act as we think best for the general good."

"To measures such as the English ways and communications bill, designed, as regards Ireland, to prevent Irishmen from using the natural resources of their own country, we shall offer all the resistance we command as being both injurious and unjust. It will be the special duty of our director of trade to examine, in co-operation with public bodies, how best to make our resistance effective."

Directors of Department Heads
"The ministers and directors at the heads of the other government—labor, industries, agriculture, local government—will similarly be charged with seeking co-operation with all interested in their departments. The minister for national defense is, of course, in close association with the voluntary military forces which are the foundation of our national army."

"It is obvious that the work of our government cannot be carried on without funds. The minister of finance is accordingly preparing a prospectus, which will shortly be published, for the issue of a loan of $1,000,000 sterling, $500,000 to be offered to the public for immediate subscription, $250,000 at home and $250,000 abroad, in bonds of such amounts as to meet the needs of the small subscriber."

"I think that is a fair outline of our program as it stands at present. An outline is all we are prepared to give and so I have not attempted to go into details. The working out of the details will be the immediate concern of individual ministers and of the cabinet as a whole. When they are ready we shall bring them formally before you for your approval and sanction."

The bond issue will be repaid, Mr. De Valera said, six months after the English "evacuation" of Ireland. He denied emphatically that Russian or German money ever had been used for promoting the cause of Ireland.

Explosion Smashes Window and Door of Brooklyn Fur Factory—Strike in Progress

NEW YORK, June 25.—A bomb exploded early today in front of the fur factory of Bertram J. Goodman, in the Williamsburg district, Brooklyn, smashing the door and breaking all the windows in the building. A strike has recently been in progress at the plant, which employs 200 persons, and the police are investigating the theory that the explosion was the work of a dissatisfied striker with anarchistic tendencies.

WHEAT AND FLOUR MEN TO BE LICENSED

NEW YORK, June 25.—Julius Barnes, United States wheat director, announced last night that President Wilson has signed a proclamation putting under license of the wheat director persons, firms, corporations and associations dealing in wheat, wheat flour or baking products manufactured either wholly or partly from wheat flour. The only exceptions are farmers and small bakers.

The proclamation, which goes into effect July 15, applies to the business of "storing or distributing wheat, or manufacturing, storing or distributing wheat flour" as well as to the manufacture of bread or other bakers' products either wholly or partly from wheat flour.

The exceptions are listed as follows:
"Bakers and manufacturers of bakery products whose consumption of flour in the manufacture of such products is, in the aggregate, less than 50 barrels per month."

"Retailers and farmers or co-operative associations of farmers or other persons with respect to the products of any farm or other land owned, leased or cultivated by them."

Common carriers are required to secure on or before July 15 a license from Mr. Barnes "in such form, under such conditions and under such rules and regulations governing the conduct of the business as he may from time to time prescribe."

The proclamation states that "any person, firm, corporation or association, other than those heretofore excepted, who shall engage in or carry on any business above specified after July 15, without first securing such license, or shall carry on such business while such license is suspended or after such license is revoked, will be liable to the penalties prescribed by law."

UPHOLD RIGHT TO STORE LIQUOR IN HOME

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A man's right to store liquor in his home for the "dry" period after July 1 stood up yesterday against the attack on that provision of the prohibition enforcement bill before the house judiciary committee.

Near the end of an all-day session the committee voted down an amendment which would have made it unlawful for a citizen to have liquor in his possession; struck out a section which would have prevented "use" by a citizen of liquor in his private dwelling; and declared that in the matter of general enforcement there would be no difference between war-time and constitutional prohibition.

LOWELL VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

The Lowell Veterans' association held a brief routine meeting last evening in the Westford street armory, but beyond reports from various committees, little business was transacted. The next meeting will be held Friday evening and every member of the organization is urged to attend as several matters of importance are to be discussed. One will have to do with participation in the Fourth of July parade.

SCORE BIG SUCCESS IN PIANO RECITAL

Pupils of Miss Bernice M. Moulton scored a complete success last evening in their annual recital of piano music. The program was given before a large audience, in Kitson hall, Y.W.C.A., and it was brimful of excellent accomplishment. Those taking part represented varying steps of instruction, from beginners to practical maturity, and all showed a keen sense of rhythm and interpretation.

Bertram Nell, baritone, assisted in the program and was heard to advantage in a group of spirited songs. The ushers were Miss Theresa Woodward, Miss Virginia Sargent, Miss Portia Murphy and Miss Dorothy Stevens.

BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL

As a result of a fall from a third-story window at his home, 513 Gorham street, last evening, Lawrence Shaughnessy, aged 9 years, is in a very critical condition at St. John's hospital. The little fellow received a fracture of both wrists, abrasions to his face and a possible fracture of his skull.

It is not known just how the accident occurred, but it is believed that the boy, who went to bed at 9:45 o'clock, walked in his sleep. He was found in an unconscious condition on the ground at 11:30 o'clock and was rushed to the hospital in the ambulance.

SCHOOL WORK EXHIBIT

A most pleasing exhibit of the work performed by the pupils during the year was given last evening at St. Louis' parochial school hall in connection with the closing of the first year of the academic section of the school. The exhibit consisted chiefly of literary work, but was none the less pleasing. During the evening an entertainment program was given, much to the delight of the audience. The pastor, Rev. J. B. Labossiere, was present and he warmly congratulated the pupils as well as the teachers, the Sisters of the Assumption, for the great success achieved during the year.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this field in Lowell.

RED SOX FINISH WELL AGAINST SENATORS

Manager Barrow sent Ray Caldwell back at the Washington Senators yesterday and he showed a complete reversal of form, holding the visitors to six hits and winning his game, 5 to 2. Caldwell pitched the ball for Washington for six innings but made a fatal mistake when he grooved the first pitch to Ruth in the seventh. The Senators sending it into the right field bleachers for his sixth circuit smash of the season. Another run came over before the inning was finished, tying the score. Caldwell hit scored three more for the Red Sox in the eighth. Cooper's baserunning and hitting featured. Cleveland made it two straight from the White Sox, 2 to 0. Inability to hit in the pinches when they had men within scoring distance, coupled with sensational hitting by Gardner and Johnston over Chicago, gave New York maintained its first place and blanked Philadelphia, 5 to 0. Peckinbaugh had another perfect balling day, getting two hits out of two batters. Heavy hitting by Detroit outfielders beat St. Louis yesterday. The score was 8 to 4. Flansburg hit a single, a triple and a home run while Al Smith got a triple and a homer.

WAR BRIDE COMING HERE

English Girl Wed to Lowell Boy During War to Sail from Liverpool July 1st

July 1 is the date set for the English wife of John Moran, the local boxing champion, to sail from Liverpool, Eng., with Lowell as her destination. She is coming to join her husband to whom she was married while the Lowell boy was a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Texas and stationed in British waters during the war. Moran made "Johnny" for one year, during which time he met and married a pretty English girl. His last trip back to this country was over the war and, consequently, he was unable to bring along his blushing bride. Now, however, that peace has been proclaimed and restrictions lifted she will start across the ocean to join hands with her husband in the city of Lowell.

JOHNNY MORAN

While in the navy and since again donning his "cuffs" Moran has set up a splendid record in the ring. He has appeared in 47 bouts, 23 main events and 24 preliminaries. He has never lost a decision, and among the men he has met are Archie Mitchell, Johnny Clinton and many other notables. He won 17 bouts via the knockout route and never was knocked out himself. He took part in the inter-allied boxing tournament in London and has boxed in other English cities and throughout New York state, in Massachusetts, etc. He has acted as sparring partners for both Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, and Jack Britton, champion welterweight of the world, and says both of the titleholders are "real guys" in and out of the ring.

Upon returning to Lowell, Moran has won three bouts, and he is anxious to meet any man of his weight in the country. He is particularly desirous of meeting Young Kloby, if the latter will come in at 135 pounds. "Kloby," said Moran, "is posing as a lightweight, and if he will come into the ring at 135 pounds, I feel confident that I can beat his victorious career." Moran, who is now under the efficient management of Jackie Williams, of Cambridge, is training daily in anticipation of future bouts, and all the while he is wearing that smile which will broaden greatly when his "war bride" arrives from far over the sea.

LAWRENCE WINS AND LEADS LEAGUE

Pierotti was hit hard at Lawrence yesterday and Lowell lost to the down-river team, 9 to 1. By winning, Lawrence moved into first place. Lowell batters did some hitting on their own hook, but most of the 10 runs collected came at inopportune moments and went for naught. Bessie and Weaver both knocked homers, the former's sailing far over the right field fence, a monstrous shot for a right hand-hitter.

HOLY CROSS CHAMPIONS

Defeats B. C. 7 to 0, Setting Up Record of 22 Victories in 23 Games—Gill Shines

WORCESTER, June 25.—Winding up his college career in a blaze of glory, Holy Cross pitcher, who has beaten Harvard, Yale, Princeton and all the other big colleges this year, making a remarkable record of 12 wins and but one loss, that of Princeton yesterday, when he shut out Boston college, 7 to 0, holding the visitors to one scratch hit. This was a great feat for a pitcher who has picked up back of third. Despite his towering throw for the bag, however, Bond, the fast little shortstop of the Boston team, just beat the throw. Had the throw been a bit faster, Gill would have turned in a no-hit, no-run game.

The Holy Cross hitters landed on big Jim Fitzpatrick's curves in the fifth inning for four runs. Three more were added in the seventh. Murray pitched the last inning for B. C., and was not scored on.

Ten thousand persons crowded Fitchburg field to see the game, which was the feature of the alumni reunion, in anticipation of Holy Cross commencement today.

Before the game, Mayor Holmes of Worcester presented a pennant, symbolic of Holy Cross winning the Eastern college baseball championship for 1919, to Rev. James B. Carlin, S.J., president of Holy Cross, in behalf of a local newspaper.

Holy Cross ended its season yesterday with 22 victories and one defeat, clinching the college baseball championship.

BRAVES STEP OUT AND FALL BACK AGAIN

The Braves slip even in a double bill with Philadelphia yesterday, winning the first game, 10 to 6, but dropping the second, 9 to 3. It was a great feat for the Braves to win the first game, but they could not stand prosperity and slipped back in the afternoon contest. Epa Rixey was hit hard and far by the Braves in the first game, while Dummery, who relieved Rixey, held the Phillies safe. In the second game Rixey was badly shot up in the eighth inning and retired in favor of Nachtrup, who was no better and six runs were scored before the side could be put out.

New York and Brooklyn broke even in a pair of games at Ebbetts field. The Giants hit hard against two Brooklyn pitchers in the first game, while in the second fracas the Dodgers bombarded Barnes for just 18 safe blows. Griffith leading with Ave. Cooper's offerings were knocked to all corners of the park by St. Louis and they had as trouble beating Pittsburgh, 9 to 2. Goodwin was very effective, both Pirates runs being unearned. The Cubs and Reds split 50-50 at Cincinnati. Solter led the batter Chicago hitters in the first game, which went their way, 8 to 2, but Miller was altogether too much for them to solve in the second contest and had received perfect support. He allowed only four hits and fanned 10 batters. Tyler pitched his first full game for more than a month and did well.

VALGER EXPECTS HARD TUSSLE WITH LEWIS

Benny Valger, the French feather-weight champion, expects a hard-tussle from Gusie Lewis of Philadelphia, when they clash tomorrow night at the Crescent rink, in a 12-round bout to a decision.

Both Valger and Lewis have met on two previous occasions, and the bouts were hummers, hence the boxing fans of Lowell are assured of a stinging battle when these two ring gladiators set into action on Thursday night.

Following close on the heels of Ed. Peckinbaugh had another perfect throw with the Yankees, getting two out of two.

Brilliant Eddie Gill
No college pitcher in a decade has closed his career in such a brilliant manner as did Eddie Gill of Holy Cross yesterday, when Burket's wonderful aggression defeated Boston College, 7 to 0, Gill holding the batters to one scratch hit. The Purple team was about as never to a no-run game as he ever will be and still miss it. A drive to Santoras, third baseman, which was picked out by the batter and broken out by a step in spite of an unerring throw, kept Eddie out of the hall of fame.

To Select Referee
TOLEDO, Ohio, June 25.—Selection of a referee for the heavyweight championship contest between Jess V. Reid and Jack Dempsey here July 1 may be announced today. If a referee selection is not agreed on today, it was said, formal announcement of the choice would be made later from New York by Major A. J. Drexel Hood, president of the boxing control board.

Despite the plans of the boxing control board to have a referee and two judges decide the contest, it was regarded as almost certain today that the bout will be judged solely by a referee. Another William Joe Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, favor the judge plan.

WANT IRON HATS

Players in the International league will probably soon be discussing the advisability of including tin head-plates similar to those worn rakishly by Uncle Sam's doughboys in the war in their equipment. An alarming number of knockouts, in which craniums have come in contact variously with balls and bats, has caused the players to seek some sort of protection for themselves and their skulls. Last Monday was a red-letter day in knockout activities.

A quintet of Dave Putz's stars were separated from their senses in a series of six knockouts. The day held the greatest misfortune for Schulte of Birmingham. He managed to get hit twice. In Birmingham's game, too, Kendrick of Reading was knocked senseless. This three-ply display of unconsciousness led in the day's average.

Over in Newark the clash between the Bisons and Newark ran a close second in the number of accidents. Brugg's, the Newark catcher, was hit in the head and so was Thomas of Buffalo. Brugg's enforced sleep was odd and at the same time dramatic. Casey, one of the Buffalo's heaviest hitters, swung mightily at a third strike and missed.

NO APPLICATIONS FOR LIQUOR LICENSES

That they will not apply for new liquor licenses during the period between now and that eventful date, July 1, was the decision arrived at by the Lowell Liquor Dealers' association which held a special meeting at Elks' hall yesterday afternoon to thrash out the complex situation which faces them these days in the matter of taking out liquor licenses in the face of the seemingly fast approaching days of prohibition.

It was the opinion of the members that if President Wilson lifts the ban on old John Barleycorn their present licenses will become automatically effective by notifying the license commissioners and payment of the monthly fee required under the special act of 1918.

All of which would indicate beyond a doubt that if the president fails to lift the ban on the cup that cheers in the next few days the Spindle City will be a very dry spot after midnight, June 30.

SHOPPERS RIDE AGAIN

The jitters are running again. It goes without saying that hundreds of women living miles from the business centre have been denied the opportunity to do necessary shopping because they were perhaps physically unable to walk or did not care to pay jitney fare which in some instances was 50 cents the round trip.

Earlier in the week we suggested the holding of "Post-strike" sales. The idea has been well received and we understand that many such sales are to be held. It is undeniable that now a big volume of buying on the part of women will take place because cars are running again.

But it is equally true that women will follow and look for the store advertisements now even more than is usually the case. It must be recognized that the stores having the best ads will get the most trade. There will now be a rush to the stores and a hunt for bargains. A word to the wise is sufficient. Women have saved up money to buy. To reach the largest number of them and in the most direct way, have your ad published in

STREET REPAIRS

Some of our most important streets are falling into a condition in which they sadly need repairs. In the care of a street, it is true that "a patch in time saves nine." Somehow, the department does not get around to do much patching, and hence streets that might otherwise be kept in fairly good shape for several years, get cut up so that they are avoided by autos and other vehicles.

Commissioner Murphy, we assume, is fully aware of this and of the necessity of keeping repair gangs at work; but his funds are limited. It appears, however, that more might be done in the line of repairing breaks in the smooth-paved streets.

FIRST STREET DELAY

The summer season is now on and yet work has not been started upon the first street boulevard. The city has provided the necessary funds and it is up to the county and state authorities to have the work started as soon as possible. We do not think that it is advisable to hold up this project any longer with a view to a possible change of plans that would provide for an athletic field on the first street oval. That undertaking would delay the work for another year at least and would also destroy the lineality of the road. First street at the present time, as it has been for years, is a disgrace to the city. As a link of the state road it is by far the worst from New Hampshire to Newburyport and there is none so bad between Lowell and Boston. Undoubtedly the street department of Lowell would have taken pains to put this street in better condition but for the prospect that the river boulevard would be constructed this summer. It is time to get at the work if any considerable part of it is to be done this season.

BOLSHEVİK STRIKE

At Waterbury, Conn., a very mysterious strike is in progress in which 6000 men, mostly Russians, quit work in brass foundries; and although not affiliated with any union, they acted with as much unanimity and discipline as if they were well organized.

The authorities had a clash with them and one policeman was so severely assaulted that he may die.

Investigation tends to show that the men are controlled by Bolshevik agents, who are responsible for the strike which was declared without the usual preliminaries of demanding higher wages or better working conditions. The demands, however, came later.

It is such strongholds of the "Reds" as this that the department of justice is determined to break up. They are the nursery of Bolshevism, under the leadership of men imported from Russia. A number of them will probably soon get a free passport back to their native land. They should have no abiding place in this nation.

OUR FOREIGN VISITORS

It is probable that within the next few months the United States will be visited by many foreign dignitaries, some of whom will come here as delegates to the first meeting of the League of Nations to be held in October. Foremost among the number will be King Albert of Belgium who will be accompanied by Queen Elizabeth. These royal personages will certainly receive a most cordial welcome for the reason that they have won the admiration of the world by their devotion to their people and to the cause of humanity. The king's army proved to be the greatest barrier in the path of German progress in the early stages of the war. But for the courage shown by him and his people, Germany might have reached Paris in the initial dash. That was her intention and had she not been blocked in Belgium she might have succeeded before the French got mobilized for the defence of the capital.

Another distinguished visitor will be Cardinal Mercier who will be a guest of the city of Boston in September at the request of Mayor Peters. The heroism of this distinguished churchman was such that he set at defiance the great power of Germany while he exposed the unparalleled atrocities perpetrated upon his people. He too will receive a most cordial greeting by the people of the United States wherever he may have an opportunity to visit.

LABOR AND RAILROADS

The American Federation of Labor has voted in favor of government ownership of railroads. It is quite natural that the convention should take this stand in view of the fact that the brotherhoods have fared so well under the government while directing the railroads as a war measure.

Perhaps it was to secure the influence of the federation in support of this policy that the brotherhoods decided to join the organization under the leadership of Mr. Gompers.

Government ownership during the war has been a disappointment and it would undoubtedly be still more so in time of peace. The railroads are to be returned to the private owners in order to give an impetus to private enterprise which, during the war, has been restricted by government authority.

The socialists favor government ownership as a step in the direction of controlling production; but it is not for this reason the American Federation of Labor has voted in favor of that policy. The brotherhoods never fared so well as under government control and they want to retain the present order of things.

They are so much opposed to private ownership that when the government turns the roads back to the owners, there will probably be trouble between the employees and the new management.

THE EX-KAISER'S FATE

Kaiser Bill is now showing a horror of being handed over to the allies for trial on the charge of having committed high crimes against international law, including the worst atrocities on record on land and sea.

It is right that the vaulting ambition and the fatuous love of conquest shown by this man should be exposed to the world. It is not only right but necessary that he should be confined for life so that he will not be free to plot trouble either in Germany or any of the other countries.

Although he deserves death more perhaps than any other man now living, yet, we do not believe it would be good policy on the part of the allied nations to execute him. That would arouse a spirit of retaliation which, in these days of bombs and infernal machines, might easily be carried out by desperadoes against any or all of the nations concerned in consigning the ex-emperor to an ignominious death.

Now that the war is over, it is better to promote peace rather than stir up new international strife. The world has had all it wants of war and a great deal more. The people of all nations want peace and they want it without further delay. To execute an ex-ruler, formerly one of the proudest on earth, would savor too much of German cruelty and too little of the spirit of humanity that is to be the guiding principle in maintaining world peace under the League of Nations.

We do not know that there is any intention on the part of the allies to execute the kaiser; but the decision that he be tried for high crimes against international law, implies punishment in case of conviction. It is but natural that the countries that have suffered most from the ravages of the war would gladly see the kaiser executed. To inflict the death penalty, however well deserved, would be a blunder that might have serious consequences.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The signing of the peace treaty will undoubtedly bring great relief to the entire world. It will remove part of the uncertainty as to the future that has affected business interests in this country. It will offer assurance everywhere that the war is over, and that the people can now turn their attention to peaceful pursuits without danger of interruption. It should bring about a great improvement in business in the very near future throughout the United States.

A sequel to the declaration of peace will be the extension of great loans to European nations for reconstruction work. Much of the money so loaned will be expended in this country for the purchase of raw materials or the products of our factories. This will help to enliven business in this nation.

Already, a loan of $25,000,000 has been extended to Sweden by a syndicate of American bankers. The rate of interest on this loan is 6 per cent. Sweden's credit is high, her per capita debt being $76.59 compared with $210 in the United States. Sweden's entire wealth is estimated at $4,600,000,000 and 11 per cent of her revenues meets the requirements on her entire debt. Other loans may be made to Italy and some of the new nations established under the peace treaty. Switzerland and Denmark are also desirous of securing loans here and will probably be accommodated. It is announced also that investors in the United States will be offered an opportunity to subscribe to these loans where the credit is such as to command complete confidence.

Apart from the demands from abroad there will be an effort to supply the needs of our own people which have been neglected for several years past. As to the high prices there will be no immediate change. The decreased purchasing power of the dollar is due to the vast issues of credit money and the increase in the per capita circulation. Some years will pass before the finances get back to normal conditions.

Strawberries are becoming plentiful now and are good as they are plentiful. It is of course an expensive process canning strawberries because the price is so much higher than it used to be, but we've heard of a way of using them to make jam, when combined with rhubarb, that certainly sounded as if it would produce a toothsome article of food at comparatively small expense.

The street railway strikers made no trouble during the period of idleness. There were no pickets because no attempt was made to start the cars for the reason that no men could be found for the purpose. The public will now await the decision of the arbitrators on the issue involved, and it should not be withheld until there is no longer any use for the open cars.

The tragedy at Franklin Field, Boston, where the lives of two little children were taken in an airplane accident was very sad indeed. If the children had no right to be there then the mothers will be held responsible although the average mother cannot account for her little ones once they are out of her sight.

May we offer the suggestion that 17 of the prettiest and most efficient future wives we have seen so far this graduation time, are the 17 young ladies upon whom Mayor Thompson conferred diplomas at the Lowell Vocational school for girls yesterday?

Here is some confidential dope on the Willard-Dempsey bout and you don't want to be tipping every one off to it: It seems to be rather certain now that if Willard does not win the bout the chances seem good that Dempsey will. But don't let on you know.

Old Orchard wants to have aeroplanes soaring over her famous beach as a counter attraction to the sights that usually rivet the attention of vacationists along the waterfront.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I was talking to a returned overseas soldier today, who had just got out of the hospital, having been laid up with machine gun wounds in his legs. "You know," he said, "one of the doctors was asking me the other day why so many men had machine gun bullet wounds in their legs, and I told him the main reason was that those who had been hit higher were still out in No Man's Land. The reason the doctors set their machine guns so low was because the French used to go forward on their hands and knees. That's why so many of our boys got hit in the legs. The French tried to teach us to go forward the same way as they did, but the Yanks couldn't see it. That was altogether too slow for them. They wanted to get there in a hurry, and they always went forward standing up."

Perhaps in the news story The Sun printed yesterday about the graduation exercises at Lowell Girls' Vocational school we did not give credit enough to the members of the faculty, a group of as conscientious and painstaking women teachers as I believe are to be found anywhere in New England. The general principal of the school is Thomas F. Fisher and the director of girls' department is Esther M. Downing. Anna O'Day is the instructor in dressmaking; Mary Mehan, instructor in sewing and millinery; Helen Noyes, instructor in home decoration and Mrs. Helen Graves, instructor in cooking. Miss Roberta Bramhall, the regular instructor in cooking, is on a leave of absence and is in France at the present time doing canteen duty. One important part of the work done by the girl students at the school is to have charge of the luncheons at the Lowell State Normal school. The girls, of course, have to go to Lowell Normal a certain time each day and prepare the luncheons served there for the student body and the faculty of the school. It is instruction coupled with real businesslike practice and added to this, the vocational school girls enjoy the atmosphere of the Normal school.

There is less sickness in Lowell at the present time than there has been for some time, according to a well known Lowell physician who has practiced in this city for years and is pretty well acquainted with the rank and file of Lowell's population and its habits of health. There are several factors entering into this state of affairs. The weather has been fairly reasonable for the past month or so, although a few days have been excessively warm. The campaign of health education which was spread broadcast last fall has evidently borne fruit even though the influenza epidemic is over. Then again the recent car strike may have had a great deal to do with making people feel better. At any rate, my medical informant says that there is very little sickness here and any of the doctors who went through the influenza stage last fall are glad of the chance to rest.

We overheard the following this morning: "Well, I'll say this much, Yvonne, now that them striking car people have gone back to work and we are able to give our feet a rest for awhile, I'd like to see the company flash a little common sense to make a rule—that nobody will be allowed to stand between the seats or on the running boards of the open cars. Good Lord! I don't see how they can expect a person to keep white shoes looking clean if three or four big boots are allowed to climb up into the space between the seats and walk all over ye. I ain't so small as I might be, I suppose, but that's no reason why they should allow people to try and squeeze in between my knees and the back of the other seat. I don't get a bit of comfort riding that way. Other car companies don't allow people to climb all over the car like a flock of monkeys, and I don't see why they do here. There's always another car right behind and let 'em fill the seats and make that enough."

SEEN AND HEARD

Ho, for the postponed outing via a Bay State car.

The Fletcher street car had lots of company while the strike was on.

Gasoline Gus and his crew of fearless chauffeurs may now retire with many thanks.

Frail bodies were built up and stout ones pared down during the days of the "big walk."

Car strikes won't amount to much after July 1. Everybody will be on the "wagon" then.

Monkey Chatter

A couple of naturalists claim to have discovered a flock of talking monkeys about 5000 miles east of congress. Don't say whether the ex-crown prince acted as interpreter or not. Monks were found playing coconut golf, and question is, did they cuss in monk mumble or straight golf English? First thing the monks chirped was, "did the landlords raise our relatives' rent in the zoos and circuses?" Lady monks wanted to know what the latest fashions were. And when told, said the styles were making monkeys out of our women. When they heard that the nation would only be drinking far-away beer after July 1 they took to the tall palms to shake a coconut highball. Next stunt the naturalists are going to try is to set a clam's words to music.

Very Good Suggestion

The fellow who drops in once in awhile with an idea called yesterday and said something about auto traffic and parking signs that was almost human. "I always feel sorry," he said, "for the stranger who gets held up by the traffic officer. I am not criticizing the officer. He has a duty to perform and he performs it to the best of his ability. The stranger, nine times in ten, is held up because he is not familiar with our traffic and parking rules and regulations. But, of course, ignorance of the law in this unsympathetic world is no excuse. Still, the city ought to be a little bit lenient with its visitors, and the least, surely, that we can do is to post signs advising the autoist where he can and cannot stop and where he can and cannot park; the time he may remain on a certain street, etc. All cities that I have visited of late are well supplied with signs of this kind and Lowell ought to get busy. I heard a man say in Boston the other day that auto tourists call Lowell the 'signless city.'"

The Unanswerable How

The American Indian custom of expressing approval by saying "How! How!" was not understood by Thornton, the magician, the first time he toured the west many years ago.

When the magician caused a pretty woman to float in thin air the Indians exclaimed in chorus:

"How! How! How!"

When the red men saw showers of money falling from the ceiling, from the nose of one of their number and from other unexpected places they again manifested their approval with the enthusiastic exclamation:

"How! How! How!"

When he had performed a number of other tricks the magician stepped down to the front of the stage and said:

"You say 'how, how, how?' Well, I'll tell you. It's all done by a simple turn of the wrist."

But again the redskins shouted:

"How! How! How!"—Youngstown Telegram.

Fardens

It's a lonesome life on a minin' claim, with only a dog at your side. So I hit for town and hung around, and fetched back home a bride.

Course I liked the dog—he was tried and true—but weary work after week.

It gets a guy, as the time goes by, and he never hears nobody speak.

Gee, this claim was fine with this wife of mine; it was novel and new to me—

The dog dropped out of my mind—alright—well, everything did, but she and what fun it was for a lonesome cuss like I had been all my life, to drop my pack in the rough old shack and eat my beans with my wife.

'Twas the same old year that the years can't change—a stranger came by one day.

And he et with us, and we liked the cuss, and invited him, please, to stay.

For a week or two—and help me through with rushin' the work on the claim,

He hummed and hawed, but finally thumbed, 'cause tramping' made him lame.

So he stayed along, and we liked him well—that is, exceptin' the pup.

He showed his teeth and curled his lip the minute the stranger showed up. But he loved the wife and was faithful to me, and dogs has got funny ways.

And time drags on, and the work goes well, and we're glad that the stranger stays.

Then come a day when I went away, and when I got back that night, the stranger was gone—and so was my wife.

Well, there wasn't a soul in sight. But, phew, thinks I, they have gone for a walk just over to Stony Log. But they left a note—my wife was gone—and by jimminy, so was my dog!

It's lonesome as hell in a minin' claim, and more when you're had a wife. The days are long and the nights are long, and monolony oats out your life.

The woman's gone—I don't know where—and Lord! how she haunts this shack!

Still, it ain't so bad as it might have been—last night the dog came back!—Edward Rutherford, Jr., in Los Angeles Times.

BIG SYMPATHETIC STRIKE AT END

General Walkout in Progress in Winnipeg Since May 15 Called Off

Calgary and Edmonton Strikes Also Settled—Other Cities to Follow

WINNIPEG, Man., June 25.—The general sympathetic strike which has been in progress here since May 15, was called off last night.

Shortly before midnight the central strike committee came to an agreement to order all men back to work tomorrow at 11 a. m., exactly six weeks from the time the strike was called.

Similar announcements came from Calgary and Edmonton, Alberta, where strikes had been called in sympathy with the Winnipeg walkout. The prediction also was made by leaders in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., that the sympathetic strikes in those cities would end today or tomorrow.

According to the announcement the calling off the strike is unconditional. Conferences of labor leaders yesterday with Premier Norris of Manitoba and other provincial officials failed to obtain any concessions, but it was indicated that a commission of investigation would be appointed later.

The general strike here was called to support the metal workers, who had been out for several weeks in an effort to secure collective bargaining and recognition of the metal trades council.

Virtually every public and private industry was tied up in the first walkout.

Want stated Winnipeg citizens in the face for several days, when stores were closed for lack of clerks and milk, bread and other necessities were almost unobtainable.

Two riots marked the course of the strike here, resulting in the deaths of two strikers and the wounding or injury of more than two scores strikers, constables and mounted police.

BACK FROM THIRD TRIP TO EUROPE

After a third trip to Europe for the transportation bureau of the army, Lieut. Richard D. Donoghue, U.S.A., has arrived in Philadelphia, his ship also carrying a large contingent of soldiers. The U.S. Pequot on which the lieutenant has made two trips across has been taken over by the shipping board evidently for the furtherance of the shipping program of the board and Lieut. Donoghue has been assigned to the New York office in Broad street, though he is in hopes that his application for discharge from the army will come through before July 1. While in New York, Lieut. Donoghue plans to pay his respects to the overseas department officials of the Knights of Columbus for their courtesies to the officers and troops on board the Pequot. They provided them with cases of candy, cigars and two or three violins and the trip overseas was a most delightful one.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. William J. Fields and Miss Marietta Duffy were married this afternoon at St. Patrick's rectory. At the close of the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the groom, and later the couple left in an automobile on a trip to Portland, Old Orchard and Kennebunk, Me., where they will be tendered a reception. After July 6 the couple will be at home to their friends at 414 School street.

Mrs. Skeels Says She Did All She Could to Help Miss Gay Because She Loved Her

NURSE SKEELS RESUMES STORY

Woman Accused of Murder Recites Circumstances of Death of Miss Gay

Sought to Be Relieved of Duties in Gay Home—Stayed by Request

LOWELL, June 25.—Mrs. Ressie M. (Skeels) Lindgren, a nurse who is on trial for murder because of the death of Miss Gay, today resumed her story from the witness stand. Emaciated by recent illness, the witness was carried to her place by court attendants. She appeared pale, but her physician said the only effect of the mental strain of yesterday's examination was a slightly increased nervous condition.

Nurse Skeels continued, the recital of the circumstances connected with the illness and death of Miss Gay in December, 1917. She testified that instead of attempting to stay with the sick woman whom, it is charged, she was dosing with arsenic, she had sought relief from her duties in the Gay home several days before Miss Gay died. She told Mrs. Edith M. Luce, a relative of the Gays, she said, that she was so tired she could not stand the strain much longer, and it was at Mrs. Luce's request that she stayed on.

Mrs. Skeels asserted that she gave Miss Gay no medical attendance of any kind for two days before her death. On the day that Miss Gay died, she said, she was called into her room by Mrs. Luce and found the patient unconscious.

She said she raised Miss Gay's head and did all she could to make her comfortable because she loved her.

After Miss Gay had died, witness said, she found a box of jewelry and immediately notified Mrs. Luce. She said that in June, 1917, when the rash broke out on her neck after she had worn Miss Gay's raincoat, Miss Gay examined it and said that it looked like the rash she had on her own face and she recommended that it be treated with Fowler's Solution, which she said she had used.

Witness said she had never heard of the solution before Miss Gay told her about it.

She declared that all the articles which it was alleged she had stolen had been given her by the Gays; and that at the time of the investigation, she had so stated but had told Mrs. Luce she was welcome to take any of them if she wanted to claim them.

Witness also declared that some of the goods had been purchased by her at stores in Lawrence and that they had never been inside the Gay home.

"As God is my judge," she declared when shown goods alleged to have been stolen from Abbott academy students, "I never saw those things."

When she reached New Jersey in response to a despatch notifying her of her brother's illness witness said she was told by physicians that he could not live and she said she would not let him die. He was treated at a hospital for four weeks and then returned to his home because he objected to an operation on his knee. She said all she possibly could for him, but could not save him. When she saw how desperate his condition was, she induced his divorced wife to come and see him and bring the children.

Mrs. Skeels denied having obtained any insurance money from the deaths of her relatives.

The witness sobbed when she identified a coat which she said she brought for her mother.

She declared that she was given no opportunity by the police to make an explanation in regard to the goods and that it appeared as if they were trying to "railroad her."

SHOT OFFICER IN SELF DEFENSE

Barney Says He Killed Officer After He Had Been Assaulted by Him

Attack Made in Dark and He Did Not Know Deiningger Was Officer

BOSTON, June 25.—Herman L. Barney, testifying in his own behalf today, at his trial and that of John F. Dillon for the murder of Patrolman Charles E. Deiningger, said he fired the shot which killed the officer after he had been assaulted by Deiningger. His assailant was in civilian clothes, he said, and in the darkness he had no means of knowing Deiningger was an officer.

Barney testified that Dillon, Joseph Hurley and himself had gone to a garage in Chelsea, which was a depot for stolen automobiles. Hurley, who has turned state's evidence, gave him a revolver, he said, to "scare" the garage keeper. Barney attempted to open the garage door, he continued, when it was suddenly pushed open and "I saw a form of a big man coming at me with raised hand. I tried to run away."

"The man struck me with a piece of iron pipe. I fell weak and fell in the gutter."

"I put up my hands to defend myself and tried to get up. The form was coming at me again with raised hand. I did not intend to kill anyone. I did not know I had shot anyone. I wanted to get away and ran staggering."

PERSHING AND HOOVER HONORED BY OXFORD

OXFORD, England, June 25 (By Associated Press).—General Pershing and Herbert C. Hoover, represented the United States today in a distinguished company of noted men from the allied countries who were honored by Oxford university with the degree of doctor of civil law. The ceremony was the culminating feature of the annual Baccalaureate, or commemoration exercises. The event was rich in ceremonial pomp fostered by the traditions of this famous institution. None of the spectators who crowded the theatre followed the proceedings with keener interest than a handful of American army students who have been studying here.

Earl Curzon, chancellor of the university, presided and, according to custom, solemnly went through the prescribed formula of proposing the degrees to the house. After the house had granted the degrees the recipients were summoned in turn by the public orator.

Those upon whom the degrees were conferred included General Pershing, Mr. Hoover, Baron Makino, head of the Japanese peace conference delegation, Marshal Joffre, Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, Maj. Gen. Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff, and Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, first sea lord. Former Premier Orlando of Italy and Premier Paderewski of Poland received degrees by proxy.

EX-KAISER IS SHOCKED

Had Hoped Way Would Be Found for Him to Return to Germany

AMSTERDAM, Tuesday, June 24.—(By the Associated Press).—News of Germany's decision to accept the peace terms, including the clause providing for the delivery of the former German emperor to the allies, reached the castle late yesterday evening. Exactly how the former emperor was affected by the tidings cannot be ascertained but the attitude of members of his party gives rise to the belief that the news was a considerable shock.

When the Associated Press correspondent talked with attendants they declared the news was already known at the castle. They made the most searching criticisms of the German National assembly for its action. Evidently they had held to the hope that some way would be found for the former emperor to return to Germany. Now, however, it apparently is realized that he is exiled forever from his country.

NORMAL SERVICE ALL OVER SYSTEM

Trolley Strike Which Paralyzed Service In Score of Bay State Cities Ends

Joint Conference Discusses Plans for Conference With Railroad Management

BOSTON, June 25.—Normal service on all lines of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway, affected by the general strike of union carmen was resumed today. The strike, which paralyzed the service in more than a score of cities and towns from three to eight days, was officially declared off last night after union officials had polled yesterday's vote and found an overwhelming majority in favor of returning to work.

Plans for a conference with the railway management were discussed at a meeting of the joint conference of the carmen's local unions today. The committee also arranged to place before a board of arbitration the various grievances claimed by the employees, including the matter of doing away with the use of hand fare registers on open cars.

It was against the use of these registers that the carmen of Lowell, who were the first to walk out, protested. They struck on Monday of last week and when sympathetic strikes were called on Sunday by the Chelsea, Lynn, Salem, Lawrence, Haverhill, Reading, Woburn and Quincy districts additional grievances were made public. More than 3000 carmen, about 500 miles of track and nearly a half million car riders were involved in the strike. The vote to return to work was precipitated by the declaration of President W. D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees, that unless the men returned to their cars today, they would lose their local charters and all the benefits derived from national affiliation.

Back in Lawrence
LOWELL, June 25.—Normal street car traffic conditions were resumed here today. All the Eastern Massachusetts Railway company employees who struck in sympathy with the Lowell carmen returning to work today.

AMENDMENT TO PROHIBITION BILL

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Under an amendment to the prohibition enforcement bill approved today by the house judiciary committee, a strike would be permitted to withdraw tax free from government warehouses alcohol produced at industrial plants and needed by health authorities in time of epidemic.

In offering the amendment, Representative Goodkowitz, republican, West Virginia, called attention to the situation last year, during the Spanish influenza epidemic, and said in many cases physicians had used whiskey as the best and most available remedy.

Another amendment approved by the committee, provided that patent medicines containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol, must be "suitable for use for beverage purposes."

Object Resembling Bomb Found in Congress Street Office Building Today

BOSTON, June 25.—Every patrolman in the police department of this city was on duty or on call today, the result of a special mobilization. No official explanation of the unusual gathering was given but it was said at headquarters that reports were current of a possible radical demonstration and parade, permits for which had been refused.

An object resembling a bomb was found in a Congress street office building this morning and turned over to Walter L. Wedger, explosives expert of the state police, for analysis.

GRADUATES 21ST CLASS

Commencement Exercises at State Normal School Brought to a Close Today

The annual graduation exercises of the State Normal school were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and were attended by the same happy incidents which ever mark this important stepping stone in the careers of the future educators of the country. The school assembly hall was filled with interested relatives and friends, and the program, refreshingly brief, was universally enjoyed. It was the twenty-first class to be graduated from the school.

The chorus and semi-chorus singing, under the leadership of Albert Edmund Brown, was particularly inspiring and sounded a clear call to the standard of Americanization and love of country. The class gift was a pledge of money to the school alumni, assisting in the effort to reorganize the alumni body. The address to the graduates was given by J. E. Burke, LL.D., assistant superintendent of Boston schools. The class motto in "Non est vivere sed valere vita"—"Not merely to live but to be able to live."

DE VALERA AT CAPITAL

Provisional President of the Irish Republic Visits Senator Walsh

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Senator Walsh received a visit from Edward De Valera, the provisional president of the Irish republic, when he was in Washington a few days ago, but the fact did not become known until Valera had left the city. Senator Walsh then said, "De Valera did not discuss his plans or views with me. We had merely an informal chat. He expressed his delight at being in America and with the liberal sentiment and sympathy of the American people for the Irish cause. He also stated that he looked forward with the greatest confidence for the recognition of the Irish republic." It was Senator Walsh who introduced and had pressed through to a successful vote in the senate a resolution expressing the sympathy of the senate with the aspirations of the Irish people. Senator Walsh today stated that De Valera desired his visit here to be kept a complete secret and requested no information regarding it be given out by the senators and members of congress whom he had visited, until after he had left town.

"And I was much impressed," added Senator Walsh in talking to The Sun correspondent, "with De Valera's youth and sincerity of purpose. I am sure he will get a warm greeting and greatly interest the people to whom he talks. He was accompanied by his secretaries and left here intending to travel extensively and present his views to members of boards of trade and chambers of commerce."

U. S. NOW HAS REAL FORTIFIED FRONTIER

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Completion of forts and housing accommodations along the Mexican border, undertaken by the war department to ameliorate the trials of the troops serving as patrols, will give the United States its first real fortified frontier.

Regularly established army posts along the international boundary now total more than two score with probably as many more outpost positions, each accommodating a troop of cavalry or an infantry platoon. The three-year watch of the American troops, led by the war department finally to decide that permanent housing should be furnished.

MURDER OF CRUGER GIRL

Cocchi Testifies He Saved Body of Victim So He Might Hide It in Cellar

BOLOGNA, June 25.—The trial of Alfred Cocchi, charged with the murder of Ruth Cruger in New York in 1917, has been interrupted for an indefinite period to enable the court to examine the American court record with reference to testimony given in the Cocchi case regarding Cocchi's wife. Cocchi told yesterday of having saved the body of Miss Cruger so that he might hide it. Then he broke down, crying in a broken voice: "I took the body and tried to conceal it in the cellar, but the door was not large enough and I saved the body in two. The girl was dead when this was done."

Despatches received on Tuesday from Bologna stated that Cocchi had declared in court that his wife was guilty of the murder of Ruth Cruger, a New York girl, who was slain in Cocchi's bicycle repair shop in New York city in 1917. It is evidently the purpose of the court to examine the record of the inquiry made in the case of Mrs. Cocchi by a New York grand jury which exonerated her after an investigation.

POLICE CONVOY FOR VEGETABLE TRUCKS

NEW YORK, June 25.—With a police guard thrown around Washington Market and a convoy of mounted patrolmen for every truck load of vegetables leaving the warehouses, the first appreciable movement of produce since the strike of market teamsters, chauffeurs and porters on Monday, was begun here today.

The police precautions were taken to avoid threatened violence. Notwithstanding these assurances of protection many commission merchants did not open their places of business this morning. Army trucks supplying government institutions were guarded by soldiers and marines and were allowed to pass picket lines unmolested. Strike representatives announced the board of health would be requested to remove from the markets decaying commodities which have been a menace to health.

1000 TO SEE GERMANS SIGN

Five French Senators Who Took Part in Campaign of 1870 Will Be Present

Clemenceau Announces Plan for Ceremony in Hall of Mirrors at Versailles

PARIS, June 24.—(By the Associated Press).—Notable among the persons who will attend the ceremony of the signing of the treaty with Germany will be five senators who participated in the campaign of 1870. Premier Clemenceau announced in the senate today that these men will be honored with places in the Hall of Mirrors in the chateau at Versailles.

Marshal Pétain, accompanied by six French generals, Mrs. Wilson, her secretary, and Miss Margaret Wilson, will be among the thousand persons, including delegates and secretaries, who will be present when the Germans attach their signatures to the treaty. Three hundred journalists from all the interested nations, a few neutral newspaper correspondents, and about 300 guests apportioned among the signatory nations will have places in the hall.

Seven regiments of cavalry and four regiments of infantry will guard the palace grounds during the ceremony. Within the "marble" court, through which all the witnesses except the Germans will pass, will be stationed a company of drummers and buglers. No other musicians will participate. The soldiers within the palace will all be members of the republican guard, wearing silver helmets, red coats and white breeches.

The Germans will be admitted at a side entrance after the other delegations are seated about the horseshoe table within which will be the signing table where the treaty will lie.

LOCAL TROLLEY SERVICE

Car Service Normal—Rooke Register Used on Open Cars Pending Settlement

The street car service of Lowell was resumed today after nine days of idleness, during which time the conductors and motormen took sides against the street railway company on the question of the use of the Rooke register as a means of fare collection on open cars. The local men voted to return to work yesterday and operate cars designated by the company and to collect fares with the Rooke on open cars pending an immediate settlement of their differences by the international union.

Open cars were operated today on the Moody street-Hovey square, Broadway-High street, Pawtucketville-Christian Hill, Varnum avenue-Oaklands and the Lawrence street lines and the conductors in charge of the cars used the Rooke register. Extra mill cars also were of the open type. Instructions were issued to the conductors to make every effort in not allowing the cars to become overcrowded, thus facilitating the work of fare collection. As far as could be learned this forenoon traffic was normal.

With the resumption of street car traffic, the overworked jitneys, which did such valiant service for the duration of the strike, disappeared from view. The police did not molest the automobile drivers during the period of emergency transportation as the public demanded the service, but with the return of the electric, jitney operators must furnish the usual $300 bond if they wish to carry on a busi-

SABERE KAZIM FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM

Sabere Kazim, 24, thought to be a resident of Manchester, was found dead in his room at 22 Tyler street, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. Kazim came to the house last night and at the time of his arrival was noticed to be breathing heavily and evidently feeling ill. The police were notified and conducted an investigation, assisted by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith. The examiner is still investigating the death and has not as yet made his report.

A man claiming to be Kazim's brother, Refat, went to a lodging house at No. 4 Tyler street early last evening and hired a room for himself for the night. He came back about 10 o'clock with Sabere and the pair went up to the room.

Half an hour later Refat came down and left the house. The landlady heard a man groaning upstairs and went up to the room. When she found that the man occupying the room was not the one who had hired it, she ordered him to dress and leave the house, which he did.

While dressing he took several medicine bottles from the shelf and placed them in his pockets, but left a powder of some kind, which is now being examined by Dr. Smith.

He then applied for a room at No. 22 Tyler street, and was lodged for the night. The landlady heard him groaning during the night, and when she went to his room this morning found him lying dead on the floor.

The brother, Refat, came to the police station early this morning and asked them to help locate his brother, whom he thought was still at No. 4. In consequence of his story, Sergt. Dwyer was sent to the house where the dead man was found.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of M. H. McDonough, and the police are endeavoring to find relatives of the man in Manchester.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—After two hours discussion today of the resolution of Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, to declare a state of peace with Germany, the senate foreign relations committee adjourned without action.

Efforts to press the resolution at this time met with vigorous opposition, although it was said there was considerable sentiment among opponents of the League of Nations in favor of bringing it to a vote in the senate later.

BOND ISSUE FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

DeValera Outlines Plans to Float Loan of $5,000,000 Here and Abroad

Says Representatives Will Be Sent to Paris—Ambassadors to Other Countries

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Irish republic proposes to issue bonds to the amount of $5,000,000 (about $5,000,000). President Eamon de Valera announced here last night.

Half the issue will be offered for immediate subscriptions, $250,000 in Ireland and $250,000 abroad, in denominations "to meet the needs of small investors."

"In order to obtain for our own de jure government, and for the Irish republic which the Irish people will set up, the necessary international recognition," Mr. De Valera said, "we shall send at once our accredited representatives to Paris to the peace conference and to the League of Nations."

"We shall give them all necessary authority and that they may proceed there in a manner befitting their character as the representatives of a nation we shall apply for the necessary safe conduct to enable them to pass through the naval and military cordons with which the power in occupation of our country has surrounded us."

To Send Out Ambassadors

countries a number of duly accredited ambassadors and consult to see that the position of Ireland is understood as it truly is and not as English propaganda would represent it and in general to see that the interests of Ireland in these countries are in no way neglected. We shall thus resume that intercourse with other peoples, which befits us as a separate nation, that intercourse which has been the chief aim of English statecraft to cut off and which indeed English power has succeeded in cutting off for over a century.

"At the present time of general world reconstruction it is most important that the material interests of the country at home be also looked after," said Mr. De Valera. "It will be the duty of our ministry to secure the co-operation and to co-ordinate the activities of the various bodies which have taken voluntarily to themselves the safeguarding and advancement of these interests. Toward English legislation interfering with these interests we shall act in accordance with the general principles I have already indicated, that is, we shall act as we think best for the general good."

"To measures such as the English ways and communications bill, designed, as regards Ireland, to prevent Irishmen from using the natural resources of their own country, we shall offer all the resistance we command as being both injurious and unjust. It will be the special duty of our director of trade to examine, in co-operation with public bodies, how best to make our resistance effective."

Duties of Department Heads

"The ministers and directors at the heads of the other governments—labor, industries, agriculture, local government—will similarly be charged with seeking co-operation with all interested in their departments. The minister for national defense is, of course, in close association with the voluntary military forces which are the foundation of our national army."

"It is obvious that the work of our government cannot be carried on without funds. The minister of finance is accordingly preparing a prospectus, which will shortly be published, for the issue of a loan of $1,000,000 sterling, $500,000 to be offered to the public for immediate subscription, $250,000 at home and $250,000 abroad, in bonds of such amounts as to meet the needs of the small subscriber."

"I think that is a fair outline of our program as it stands at present. An outline is all we are prepared to give and so I have not attempted to go into details. The working out of the details will be the immediate concern of individual ministers and of the cabinet as a whole. When they are ready we shall bring them formally before you for your approval and sanction."

The bond issue will be repaid, Mr. De Valera said, six months after the English "evacuation" of Ireland. He denied emphatically that Russian or German money ever had been used for promoting the cause of Ireland.

Coming to Boston
BOSTON, June 25.—Edward de Valera, president of the "Irish republic," who is now in New York, will speak here on Sunday, according to an announcement made today by the Irish Freedom Fund organization.

Explosion Smashes Window and Door of Brooklyn Fur Factory—Strike in Progress

NEW YORK, June 25.—A bomb exploded early today in front of the fur factory of Hartman J. Goodman, in the Williamsburg district, Brooklyn, smashing the door and breaking all the windows in the building. A strike has recently been in progress at the plant, which employs 200 persons, and the police are investigating the theory that the explosion was the work of a dissatisfied striker with anarchistic tendencies.

WHEAT AND FLOUR MEN TO BE LICENSED

NEW YORK, June 25.—Julius Barnes, United States wheat director, announced last night that President Wilson has signed a proclamation putting under license of the wheat director persons, firms, corporations and associations dealing in wheat, wheat flour or baking products manufactured either wholly or partly from wheat flour. The only exceptions are farmers and small bakers.

The proclamation, which goes into effect July 15, applies to the business of "storing or distributing wheat, or manufacturing, storing or distributing wheat flour" as well as to the manufacture of bread or other bakery products either wholly or partly from wheat flour.

The exceptions are listed as follows: "Bakers and manufacturers of bakery products whose consumption of flour in the manufacture of such products is, in the aggregate, less than 50 barrels per month."

"Retailers and farmers or co-operative associations of farmers or other persons with respect to the products of any farm or other land owned, leased or cultivated by them."

Common carriers are required to secure on or before July 15 a license from Mr. Barnes "in such form, under such conditions and under such rules and regulations governing the conduct of the business as he may from time to time prescribe."

The proclamation states that "any person, firm, corporation or association, other than those hereinbefore excepted, who shall engage in or carry on any business above specified after July 15, without first securing such license, or shall carry on such business while such license is suspended or after such license is revoked, will be liable to the penalties prescribed by law."

UPHOLD RIGHT TO STORE LIQUOR IN HOME

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A man's right to store liquor in his home for the "dry" period after July 1 stood up yesterday against the attack on that provision of the prohibition enforcement bill before the house judiciary committee.

Near the end of an all-day session the committee voted down an amendment which would have made it unlawful for a citizen to have liquor in his possession; struck out a section which would have prevented "use" by a citizen of liquor in his private dwelling; and declared that in the matter of general enforcement there would be no difference between war-time and constitutional prohibition.

SCORE BIG SUCCESS IN PIANO RECITAL

Pupils of Miss Bernice M. Moulton scored a complete success last evening in their annual recital of piano music. The program was given before a large audience in Kitson hall, Y.W.C.A., and it was brimful of excellent accomplishment. Those taking part represented varying steps of instruction, from beginners to practical maturity, and all showed a keen sense of rhythm and interpretation. Bertram Neil, baritone, assisted in the program and was heard to advantage in a group of spirited songs. The ushers were Miss Theresa Woodward, Miss Virginia Sargent, Miss Portia Murphy and Miss Dorothy Stevens.

SCHOOL WORK EXHIBIT

A most pleasing exhibit of the work performed by the pupils during the year was given last evening at St. Louis' parochial school hall in connection with the closing of the first year of the academic section of the school. The exhibit consisted chiefly of literary work, but was none the less pleasing. During the evening an entertainment program was given, much to the delight of the audience. The pastor, Rev. J. B. Labossiere, was present and he warmly congratulated the pupils as well as the teachers, the Sisters of the Assumption, for the great success achieved during the year.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this field in Lowell.

A LITTLE EXERCISE FOR THE STATE GUARD

(Special to The Sun.)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 25.—Orders issued yesterday by Adjutant General Jesse P. Stevens, with the approval of Governor Coolidge, provide for a seven-day tour of duty for each unit of the state guard, to be performed during the months of July and August.

The fourth brigade will be quartered at the camp ground in Boxford, formerly used by the Second Corps of Cadets. The 15th Infantry will use the ground from July 6 to 12; the 11th Infantry will be in camp from July 13 to 19; while it will be occupied from July 20 to 26 by the 12th Infantry.

The old state camp ground at Framingham will be the quarters of the Fifth Brigade, the 10th Infantry being the outfit selected to open the camp on July 20, remaining in camp until the 26th. The camp will then be deserted for two weeks, but on August 10 the 20th Infantry will move in and remain until August 16, and it will be followed the next day by the 14th Infantry, which will quit camp August 23.

During the last week of the camp at Boxford, while the 12th Infantry is quartered there, it will be compelled to share the camp with the first troop of cavalry. The first motor corps, whose tour of duty is limited to four days, will be at the Sherborn camp from July 10 to 13.

Commissioned officers and enlisted men will be allowed the pay of their rank or grade as specified in the act of 1917 creating the guard, and enlisted men will be allowed transportation expenses for one round trip between his home and the camp to which his unit is ordered.

It is announced that state guard members who are engaged in war work shall not be required to give up such work, but will be given furloughs from camp if necessary. It is also interesting to note that the orders provide that "owing to lack of state funds," companies must provide axes, wood-saws, pails and wash basins at their own expense.

REP. ABBOTT SCORES THE TEA CUP BOLSHEVISTS AND INTELLECTUAL ANARCHISTS

Rep. Essex S. Abbott of the state legislature spoke before the members of Down Town Men's club at the First Congregational church last night, commenting upon the work of the general court as now instituted and gave vent to a scathing criticism of so-called tea cup Bolshevists and intellectual anarchists. He termed them the gravest menaces of the present day.

The meeting had an attendance of 135 and supper was served prior to the meeting. Community singing was led by Albert Edmund Brown. The supper was served in excellent style by Otis Butler, Robert Fulton, Romie Wood and John Chalmers. Representative Abbott was introduced by Charles L. Randall.

Below is what the press agents of the different theaters have to say of the recent attractions and of others to come:

THE STRAND

Panline Frederick's latest picturization, "The Fear Woman," which will be shown for the first time at the Strand, is unquestionably one of the most entertaining film features that the local patrons have had a privilege to enjoy in months. You can't appreciate its worth without witnessing it. Then there is charming Bessie Lovu in "The Little Boss," a rapid-fire action affair that offers the rare opportunity to reflect her talent. The singing by Miss Margaret McDonough is so very beautiful, and the comedy and weekly are also contributed by her proportionate share. And above all the Strand is always cool and comfortable. It's worth the price of admission alone to attend and enjoy the cool, comfortable surroundings of the place.

The pony contest is going on merrily. A surprisingly large number of contestants have already entered and more are expected. Turn your name in at the ticket office and have your family and friends help get a live Sheaford pony for nothing. Nothing like it has ever before been offered.

in his class. The grade he attained is remarkable considering the fact that the young lawyer during his college course devoted a considerable part of his time to the conduct of the business of the Boston Ladies' Outfitters in the capacity of assistant manager.

Owing to recent illness and general poor health, brought on in great measure by overwork, Mr. Fidler has had but little opportunity for special preparation for the coming bar examination and as yet he is undecided as to whether he will essay it at this time, though his many friends urge him to do so.

While at law school Mr. Fidler became a member of the Kappa Nu Fraternity, one of the largest of national college fraternities.

Other Graduates

Other Lowell students receiving degrees at the graduation exercises of Boston university, yesterday, included James G. Dow, Rose M. Lyon and Evelyn O. L. Nichols, who received the A.B. as graduates of the college of liberal arts, and Louis J. Fish, B.B.A., college of business administration.

HELD FAREWELL BANQUET AND DANCE

The 1919 graduating class of the Lowell State Normal school held a farewell banquet and dance yesterday afternoon and evening at the school in Broadway and this year's affair was fully as successful and enjoyable as previous events.

The guests of the occasion included Principal John J. Mahoney, members of the faculty, Miss Alma McCrum, an honorary member, and officers of the undergraduate classes. As a memorial to the class, ivy was planted in the school grounds. The banquet hall presented a striking appearance, ornate in the class colors, blue and gold, and as the 85 members sat down to an inviting meal served by Caterer Lydon, the picture was a pretty one. A toast to the class was given by Miss Catherine Mahoney of Lawrence and one to Principal Mahoney by Miss Mary Sheburne of Lowell. Mr. Mahoney responded fittingly and congratulated the class on its history in the school.

Miss Bertha Hook gave a toast to Miss McCrum, honorary member, and the good wishes of the junior class were given by Miss Agnes Donnelly, president. The class history was given by Miss Josephine Creamer of Lawrence, and the class prophecy by Miss Mary Morris of Lowell. Class songs were given by Miss Mary Gorman of Lowell, and the class poems by Miss Mary Murphy of Lawrence. The ivy was planted for the class by Miss B. Roy.

LAWRENCE WINS AND LEADS LEAGUE

Pierotti was hit hard at Lawrence yesterday and Lowell lost to the down-river team, 9 to 4. By winning, Lawrence moved into first place. Lowell batters did some hitting on their own hook, but most of the 10 blows collected were inopportune moments and went for naught. Bessie and Weaver both knocked homers, the former sailing far over the right field fence, a powerful shot for a right-hand hitter.

The teams will play in Lawrence today and will come to Lowell for a game at Spaulding park tomorrow. It will be the first game on the local lot since the tie game with Lowell on June 13.

HOLY CROSS CHAMPIONS

Defeats B. C. 7 to 0, Setting Up Record of 22 Victories in 23 Games—Gill Shines

WORCESTER, June 25.—Winding up his college career in a blaze of glory, "Kloby" Gill, Princeton and all the other big colleges this year, making a remarkable record of 22 wins and 1 loss, won his last game yesterday, when he shut out Boston college, 7 to 0, holding the visitors to one scratch hit. The last little sliver of the Boston team, just beat the throw. Had the throw been a bit faster, Gill would have turned in a no-hit, no-run game.

The Holy Cross hitters landed on big Jim Fitzpatrick's curves in the fifth inning for four runs. Three more were added in the seventh. Murray pitched the last inning for B. C. and was not scored on.

Ten thousand persons crowded Filton field to see the game, which was a feature of the alumni reunion, in anticipation of Holy Cross commencement today.

Before the game, Mayor Holmes of Worcester presented a pennant, symbol of Holy Cross winning the Eastern college baseball championship for 1919, to Ray Gammon, E. Carlin, S. J. president of Holy Cross, in behalf of a local newspaper.

Holy Cross ended its season yesterday with 22 victories and one defeat, clinching the college baseball championship.

Since returning to Lowell, Moran has won three bouts, and he is anxious to meet any man of his weight in the country. He is particularly desirous of meeting Young Kitchy, if the latter will come in at 135 pounds. "Kloby" said Moran, is posing as a lightweight, and if he will come into the ring at 135 pounds, I feel confident that I can hit his victorious career."

Morana, who is now under the efficient management of Jackie Williams, of Cambridge, is training daily in anticipation of future bouts, and all the while he is wearing that smile which will broaden greatly when his "war bride" arrives from far over the sea.

BRAVES STEP OUT AND FALL BACK AGAIN

The Braves slip even in a double bill with Philadelphia yesterday, winning the first game, 10 to 6, but dropping the second, 9 to 5. It was a great fight for the cellar position and momentarily between games Boston relinquished the honor to their opponents, but they could not stand prosperly and slipped back in the aftermath contest. Edna Rixey was hit hard and far by the Braves in the first game, while Demarzo, who relieved Eckstein held the Phillies safe, in the second game Neft was badly shot up in the eighth inning and retired in favor of Northrup, who was no better and six runs were scored before the side could be put out.

New York and Brooklyn broke even in a pair of games at Ebbets Field. The Giants hit hard against two Brooklyn pitchers in the first game, while in the second fracas the Dodgers bombarded Barnes for just 18 safe blows. Griffith leading with five, Cooper's offerings were knocked to all corners of the park by St. Louis and they had no trouble beating Pittsburgh, 9 to 2. Goodwin was very effective, both Pirates being unearned. The Cubs and Reds split 50-50 at Cincinnati. Sallee did not bother the Chicago batters in the first game, which went their way, 6 to 2, but Eiler was altogether too much for them to solve in the second contest, and Hod received perfect support. He allowed only four hits and fanned 10 batters. Trier pitched his first full game for more than a month and did well.

VALGER EXPECTS HARD TUSSLE WITH LEWIS

Benny Valger, the French feather-weight champion, expects a hard tussle from Guessie Lewis of Philadelphia, when they clash tomorrow night at the Crescent rink, in a 12-round bout to a decision.

Both Valger and Lewis have met on two previous occasions, and the bouts were hummers, hence the boxing fans of Lowell are assured of a slambang battle when these two ring gladiators get into action on Thursday night.

Benny has proven that he is of real championship calibre, especially so in Lowell, where he administered his knockout producer to both Phineas Boyle and Phil Logan. Manager Jack claims that if Benny had been just a little stronger in his last encounter with Brill, Frankie too would have kissed the canvas for the final count.

Nevertheless, Benny will have to be at his best on this Tuesday night, as the Quaker City entry is one of the toughest featherweights and capable of using his mitts in a masterful manner.

Lewis has put in much work in preparation for the bout and expresses confidence in his ability to again triumph over "Benny." There will be three other good bouts.

The Call'em

Following close on the heels of Ed. Garrity of the Senators in a spasm of machine gun bating, Tommy Griffith of the Dodgers yesterday amassed five hits out of as many trips to the plate, including a homer with the bases full, a double and three singles. Peckinpah had another perfect day with the Yankees, getting two out of two.

Brilliant Eddie Gill

No college pitcher in a decade has closed his career in such a brilliant manner as did Eddie Gill of Holy Cross yesterday, when he defeated Boston College, 7 to 0, Gill holding the Hut men to one scratch hit. The Purple meteor was about as near to a no-hit, no-run game as he ever will be and still miss it. A drive to Santaros, third baseman, which was picked up back of the bag and beaten out by a step in spite of an unerring throw, kept Eddie out of the hall of fame.

The Duck Missed

Fred Hoyer writing in the Boston Traveler in an "Old Scout Jim" letter, says of the Kloby-Denovan fight Monday night at Fenway:

"This Kloby-Denovan fight was a bear. Donovan gave a remarkable show of himself. He ducked all but one and that one landed on a bad lamp. The dope is all wrong, for any time a guy 32 years old can slip a bird 19 years old, in perfect shape, then I'm ready to renounce my bet that Dempsey will lick Willard."

No Pop Evident

What's the matter with the baseball spirit of the Lowell policemen? We bump into Arthur Dravett occasionally, but the prime instigator of the national pastime in other years never says a word about the sport now. Charlie Sharkey is also on deck and says his left wing was never in better condition. We have pleasant recollections of a number of ribald contests staged at Spaulding park when Lowell was an honored member of the Police league.

Dartmouth's Ace

Speaking of college twirlers, Caddy Murphy of Dartmouth is another big class performer who has worked like a Trojan this season. He went great guns against Cornell yesterday before a huge commencement crowd at Hanover, blanking the Ithacans, 6 to 0, and allowing only five hits.

TO SELECT REFEREE

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 25.—Selection of a referee for the heavyweight championship contest between Jess W. Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4 may be announced today. If a definite selection is not agreed on today, it was said, formal announcement of the choice would be made later from New York by Major A. J. Drexel Biddle, president of the boxing control board.

Despite the plans of the boxing control board to have a referee and two judges decide the contest, it was regarded as almost certain today that the bout will be judged solely by a referee. Neither Willard nor Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, favor the judge plan.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 25.—Selection of a referee for the heavyweight championship contest between Jess W. Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4 may be announced today. If a definite selection is not agreed on today, it was said, formal announcement of the choice would be made later from New York by Major A. J. Drexel Biddle, president of the boxing control board.

Despite the plans of the boxing control board to have a referee and two judges decide the contest, it was regarded as almost certain today that the bout will be judged solely by a referee. Neither Will

SHOPPERS RIDE AGAIN

The trolleys are running again. It goes without saying that hundreds of women living miles from the business centre have been denied the opportunity to do necessary shopping because they were perhaps physically unable to walk or did not care to pay jitney fare which in some instances was 50 cents the round trip.

Earlier in the week we suggested the holding of "Post-strike" sales. The idea has been well received and we understand that many such sales are to be held. It is undeniable that now a big volume of buying on the part of women will take place because cars are running again.

But it is equally true that women will follow and look for the store advertisements now even more than is usually the case. It must be recognized that the stores having the best ads will get the most trade. There will now be a rush to the stores and a hunt for bargains. A word to the wise is sufficient. Women have saved up money to buy. To reach the largest number of them and in the most direct way, have your ad published in

Some of our most important streets are falling into a condition in which they sadly need repairs. In the care of a street, it is true that "a patch in time saves nine." Somehow, the department does not get around to do much patching, and hence streets that might otherwise be kept in fairly good shape for several years, get cut up so that they are avoided by autos and other vehicles.

Commissioner Murphy, we assume, is fully aware of this and of the necessity of keeping repair gangs at work; but his funds are limited. It appears, however, that more might be done in the line of repairing breaks in the smooth-paved streets.

FIRST STREET DELAY

The summer season is now on and yet work has not been started upon the First street boulevard. The city has provided the necessary funds and it is up to the county and state authorities to have the work started as soon as possible. We do not think that it is advisable to hold up this project any longer with a view to a possible change of plans that would provide for an athletic field on the First street oval. That undertaking would delay the work for another year at least and would also destroy the lineality of the road. First street at the present time, as it has been for years, is a disgrace to the city. As a link of the state road it is by far the worst from New Hampshire to Newburyport and there is none so bad between Lowell and Boston. Undoubtedly the street department of Lowell would have taken pains to put this street in better condition but for the prospect that the river boulevard would be constructed this summer. It is time to get at the work if any considerable part of it is to be done this season.

BOLSHEVİK STRIKE

At Waterbury, Conn., a very mysterious strike is in progress in which 6000 men, mostly Russians, quit work in brass foundries; and although not affiliated with any union, they acted with as much unanimity and discipline as if they were well organized.

The authorities had a clash with them and one policeman was so severely assaulted that he may die.

Investigation tends to show that the men are controlled by Bolshevik agents, who are responsible for the strike which was declared without the usual preliminaries of demanding higher wages or better working conditions. The demands, however, came later.

It is such strongholds of the "Reds" as this that the department of justice is determined to break up. They are the nursery of Bolshevism, under the leadership of men imported from Russia. A number of them will probably soon get a free passport back to their native land. They should have no abiding place in this nation.

OUR FOREIGN VISITORS

It is probable that within the next few months the United States will be visited by many foreign dignitaries, some of whom will come here as delegates to the first meeting of the League of Nations to be held in October. Foremost among the number will be King Albert of Belgium who will be accompanied by Queen Elizabeth. These royal personages will certainly receive a most cordial welcome for the reason that they have won the admiration of the world by their devotion to their people and to the cause of humanity. The king's army proved to be the greatest barrier in the path of German progress in the early stages of the war. But for the courage shown by him and his people, Germany might have reached Paris in the initial dash. That was her intention and had she not been blocked in Belgium she might have succeeded before the French got mobilized for the defence of the capital.

Another distinguished visitor will be Cardinal Mercier who will be a guest of the city of Boston in September at the request of Mayor Peters. The heroism of this distinguished churchman was such that he set at defiance the great power of Germany while he exposed the unparalleled atrocities perpetrated upon his people. He too will receive a most cordial greeting by the people of the United States wherever he may have an opportunity to visit.

LABOR AND RAILROADS

The American Federation of Labor has voted in favor of government ownership of railroads. It is quite natural that the convention should take this stand in view of the fact that the brotherhoods have fared so well under the government while directing the railroads as a war measure.

Perhaps it was to secure the influence of the federation in support of this policy that the brotherhoods decided to join the organization under the leadership of Mr. Gowen.

Government ownership during the war has been a disappointment and it would undoubtedly be still more so in time of peace. The railroads are to be returned to the private owners in order to give an impetus to private enterprise which, during the war, has been restricted by government authority.

The socialists favor government ownership as a step in the direction of controlling production; but it is not for this reason the American Federation of Labor has voted in favor of that policy. The brotherhoods never fared so well as under government control and they want to retain the present order of things.

They are so much opposed to private ownership that when the government turns the roads back to the owners, there will probably be trouble between the employees and the new management.

THE EX-KAISER'S FATE

Kaiser Bill is now showing a horror of being handed over to the allies for trial on the charge of having committed high crimes against international law, including the worst atrocities on record on land and sea.

It is right that the vaunting ambition and the furious love of conquest shown by this man should be exposed to the world. It is not only right but necessary that he should be confined for life so that he will not be free to plot trouble either in Germany or any of the other countries.

Although he deserves death more perhaps than any other man now living, yet, we do not believe it would be good policy on the part of the allied nations to execute him. That would arouse a spirit of retaliation which, in these days of bombs and infernal machines, might easily be carried out by desperadoes against any or all of the nations concerned in consigning the ex-emperor to an ignominious death.

Now that the war is over, it is better to promote peace rather than stir up new international strife. The world has had all it wants of war and a great deal more. The people of all nations want peace and they want it without further delay. To execute an ex-ruler, formerly one of the proudest on earth, would savor too much of German cruelty and too little of the spirit of humanity that is to be the guiding principle in maintaining world peace under the League of Nations.

We do not know that there is any intention on the part of the allies to execute the Kaiser; but the decision that he be tried for high crimes against international law, implies punishment in case of conviction. It is but natural that the countries that have suffered most from the ravages of the war would gladly see the Kaiser executed. To inflict the death penalty, however well deserved, would be a blunder that might have serious consequences.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The signing of the peace treaty will undoubtedly bring great relief to the entire world. It will remove part of the uncertainty as to the future that has affected business interests in this country. It will offer assurance everywhere that the war is over, and that the people can now turn their attention to peaceful pursuits without danger of interruption. It should bring about a great improvement in business in the very near future throughout the United States.

A sequel to the declaration of peace will be the extension of great loans to European nations for reconstruction work. Much of the money so loaned will be expended in this country for the purchase of raw materials or the products of our factories. This will help to enliven business in this nation.

Already, a loan of $25,000,000 has been extended to Sweden by a syndicate of American bankers. The rate of interest on this loan is 6 per cent. Sweden's credit is high, her per capita debt being $78.59 compared with $219 in the United States. Sweden's entire wealth is estimated at $1,690,000,000 and 11 per cent of her revenues meets the requirements on her entire debt. Other loans may be made to Italy and some of the new nations established under the peace treaty. Switzerland and Denmark are also desirous of securing loans here and will probably be accommodated. It is announced also that investors in the United States will be offered an opportunity to subscribe to these loans where the credit is such as to command complete confidence.

Apart from the demands from abroad there will be an effort to supply the needs of our own people which have been neglected for several years past. As to the high prices there will be no immediate change. The decreased purchasing power of the dollar is due to the vast issues of credit money and the increase in the per capita circulation. Some years will pass before the finances get back to normal conditions.

Strawberries are becoming plentiful now and are good as they are plentiful. It is of course an expensive process canning strawberries because the price is so much higher than it used to be, but we've heard of a way of using them to make jam, when combined with rhubarb, that certainly sounded as if it would produce a toothsome article of food at comparatively small expense.

The street railway strikers made no trouble during the period of idleness. There were no pickets because no attempt was made to start the cars for the reason that no men could be found for the purpose. The public will now await the decision of the arbitrators on the issue involved, and it should not be withheld until there is no longer any use for the open cars.

The tragedy at Franklin Field, Boston, where the lives of two little children were taken in an airplane accident was very sad indeed. If the children had no right to be there then the mothers will be held responsible although the average mother cannot account for her little ones once they are out of her sight.

May we offer the suggestion that 17 of the prettiest and most efficient future wives we have seen so far this graduation time, are the 17 young ladies upon whom Mayor Thompson conferred diplomas at the Lowell Vocational school for girls yesterday?

Here is some confidential dope on the Willard-Dempsey bout and you don't want to be tipping every one off to it. It seems to be rather certain now that if Willard does not win the bout the chances seem good that Dempsey will. But don't let on you know.

Old Orchard wants to have aeroplanes soaring over her famous beach as a counter attraction to the sights that usually rivet the attention of vacationists along the waterfront.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I was talking to a returned overseas soldier today, who had just got out of the hospital, having been laid up with machine gun wounds in his legs. "You know," he said, "one of the doctors was asking me the other day why so many men had machine gun bullet wounds in their legs, and I told him the main reason was that those who had been hit higher were still out in No Man's Land. The reason the boches set their machine guns so low was because the French used to go forward on their hands and knees. That's why so many of our boys got hit in the legs. The French tried to teach us to go forward the same way as they did, but the Yanks couldn't see it. That was altogether too slow for them. They wanted to get there in a hurry, and they always went forward standing up."

Perhaps in the news story The Sun printed yesterday about the graduation exercises at Lowell Girls' Vocational school we did not give credit enough to the members of the faculty, a group of as conscientious and painstaking women teachers as I believe are to be found anywhere in New England. The general principal of the school is Thomas P. Fisher and the director of girls' department is Esther M. Downing. Anna O'Day is the instructor in dressmaking; Mary McLean, instructor in sewing and millinery; Helen Noves, instructor in home decoration and Mrs. Helen Graves, instructor in cooking. Miss Roberta Bramhall, the regular instructor in cooking, is on a leave of absence and is in France at the present time doing canteen duty. One important part of the work done by the girl students at the school is to have charge of the luncheons at the Lowell State Normal school. The girls, of course, have to go to Lowell Normal a certain time each day and prepare the luncheons served there for the student body and the faculty of the school. It is an instruction coupled with real businesslike practice and added to this, the vocational school girls enjoy the atmosphere of the Normal school.

There is less sickness in Lowell at the present time than there has been for some time, according to a well known Lowell physician who has practiced in this city for years and is pretty well acquainted with the rank and file of Lowell's population and its habits of health. There are several factors entering into this state of affairs. The weather has been fairly reasonable for the past month or so, although a few days have been excessively warm. The campaign of health education which was spread broadcast last fall has evidently borne fruit even though the influenza epidemic is over. Then again the recent car strike may have had a great deal to do with making people feel better. At any rate, my medical informant says that there is very little sickness here and any of the doctors who went through the influenza siege last fall are glad of the chance to rest.

We overheard the following this morning: "Well, I'll say this much, Yvonne, now that them striking car people have gone back to work and we are able to give our feet a rest for awhile, I'd like to see the company flash a little common sense to make a rule that nobody will be allowed to stand between the seats or on the running boards of the open cars. Good Lord! I don't see how they can expect a person to keep white shoes looking clean if three or four big boobs are allowed to climb up into the space between the seats and walk all over ye. I ain't so small as I might be, I suppose, but that's no reason why they should allow people to try and squeeze in between my knees and the back of the other seat. I don't get a bit of comfort riding that way. Other car companies don't allow people to climb all over the car like a flock of monkeys, and I don't see why they do here. There's always another car right behind and let 'em fill the seats and make that enough."

SEEN AND HEARD

Ho, for the postponed outing via a Bay State car.

The Fletcher street car had lots of company while the strike was on.

Monkey Chatter

A couple of naturalists claim to have discovered a flock of talking monkeys about 5000 miles east of congress. Don't say whether the ex-crown prince acted as interpreter or not. Monks were found playing coconut golf, and question is, did they cuss in monk mumble or straight golf English? First thing the monks chirped was, "Did the landlords raise our relatives' rent in the zoos and circuses?" Lady monks wanted to know what the latest fashions were. And when told, said the styles were making monkeys out of our women. When they heard that the nation would only be drinking far-away beer after July 1 they took to the tall palms to shake a coconut highball. Next stunt the naturalists are going to try is to set a clam's words to music.

Very Good Suggestion

The fellow who drops in once in awhile with an idea called yesterday and said something about auto traffic and parking signs that was almost human. "I always feel sorry," he said, "for the stranger who gets held up by the traffic officer. I am not criticizing the officer. He has a duty to perform and he performs it to the best of his ability. The stranger, nine times in ten, is held up because he is not familiar with our traffic and parking rules and regulations. But, of course, ignorance of the law in this unsymmetrical world is no excuse. Still, the city ought to be a little bit lenient with its visitors, and the least, surely, that we can do is to post signs advising the autoist where he can and cannot stop and where he can and cannot park; the time he may remain on a certain street, etc. All cities that I have visited of late are well supplied with signs of this kind and Lowell ought to get busy. I heard a man say in Boston the other day that auto tourists call Lowell the 'signless' city."

The Unanswerable How

The American Indian custom of expressing approval by saying "How! How!" was not understood by Thurston, the magician, the first time he toured the west many years ago.

When the magician caused a pretty woman to float in thin air the Indians exclaimed in chorus:

"How! How! How!"
When the red men saw showers of money falling from the ceiling, from the nose of one of their number and from other unexpected places they again manifested their approval with the enthusiastic exclamation:

"How! How! How!"
When he had performed a number of other tricks the magician stepped down to the front of the stage and said:

"You say 'how, how, how?' Well, I'll tell you. It's all done by a simple turn of the wrist."

But again the redskins shouted: "How! How! How!"—Youngstown Telegram.

Pardners

It's a lonesome life on a minin' claim, with only a dog at your side. So I hit for town and hung around, and fetched back home a bride. "Course I liked the dog—he was tried and true—but weary week after week,

It gets a guy, as the time goes by, and he never hears nobody speak.

See, this claim was fine with this wife of mine; it was novel and new to me.

The dog dropped out of my mind—all mine—well, everything did, but she! And what fun it was for a lonesome cuss like I had been all my life.

To drop my pack in the rough old shack and eat my beans with my wife.

'Twas the same old year that the years can't change—a stranger come by one day.

And he set with us, and we liked the cuss, and invited him, please, to stay.

For a week or two and help me with the work and rushin' the work on the claim;

He hummed and hawed, but finally thawed, 'cause tramping made him lame.

So he stayed along, and we liked him well—that is, exceptin' the pup.

He showed his teeth and curled his lip the minute the stranger showed up. But he loved the wife and was faithful to me, and dogs has got funny ways.

And time drags on, and the work goes well, and we're glad that the stranger stays.

Then come a day when I went away, and when I got back that night, the stranger was gone—and so was my wife!—there wasn't a soul in sight.

But, pshaw, thinks I, they have gone for a walk just over to Stony Log. But they left a note—my wife was gone—and by jimminy, so was my dog!

It's lonesome as hell in a minin' claim, and more when you've had a wife. The days are long and the nights are long, and monotony eats out your life.

The woman's gone—I don't know where—and Lord! how she haunts still. It ain't so bad as it might have been—last night the dog came back!

BIG SYMPATHETIC STRIKE AT END

General Walkout in Progress in Winnipeg Since May 15 Called Off

Calgary and Edmonton Strikes Also Settled—Other Cities to Follow

WINNIPEG, Man., June 25.—The general sympathetic strike which has been in progress here since May 15, was called off last night.

Shortly before midnight the central strike committee came to an agreement to order all men back to work tomorrow at 11 a. m., exactly six weeks from the time the strike was called.

Similar announcements came from Calgary and Edmonton, Alberta, where strikes had been called in sympathy with the Winnipeg walkout. The prediction also was made by leaders in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., that the sympathetic strikes in those cities would end today or tomorrow.

According to the announcement the calling off the strike is unconditional. Conferences of labor leaders yesterday with Premier Norris of Manitoba and other provincial officials failed to obtain any concessions, but it was indicated that a commission of investigation would be appointed later.

The general strike here was called to support the metal workers, who had been out for several weeks in an effort to secure collective bargaining and recognition of the metal trades council.

Virtually every public and private industry was tied up in the first walkout.

Want started Winnipeg citizens in the face for several days, when stores were closed for lack of clerks and milk, bread and other necessities were almost unobtainable.

Two riots marked the course of the strike here, resulting in the deaths of two strikers and the wounding or injury of more than two scores strikers, constables and mounted police.

BACK FROM THIRD TRIP TO EUROPE

After a third trip to Europe for the transportation bureau of the army, Lieut. Richard D. Donoghue, U.S.A., has arrived in Philadelphia, his ship also carrying a large contingent of soldiers. The U.S.S. Pequot on which the lieutenant has made two trips across has been taken over by the shipping board evidently for the furtherance of the shipping program of the board and Lieut. Donoghue has been assigned to the New York office in Broad street, though he is in hopes that his application for discharge from the army will come through before July 1. While in New York, Lieut. Donoghue plans to pay his respects to the overseas department officials of the Knights of Columbus for their courtesies to the officers and troops on board the Pequot. They provided them with cases of candy, cigars and two or three victrolas and the trip overseas was a most delightful one.

At the close of the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the groom, and later the couple left in an automobile on a trip to Portland, Old Orchard and Kennebunk, Me., where they will be tendered a reception.
